

Drinking Water Week 2023

May 7-13, 2023

Drinking Water Week sample social media posts

Facebook

POST #1: It's officially #DrinkingWaterWeek! We invite both water professionals and our community to celebrate by honoring the vital role water plays in our daily lives.

POST #2: This year for #DrinkingWaterWeek, we are encouraging our community to learn more about climate response and #WaterResilience. Learn how we're bolstering resilience in [insert city/county/etc.]: [insert link]

POST #3: How are you celebrating #DrinkingWaterWeek? Here are some ways to celebrate in your community: <https://news.awwa.org/3xICldO>

POST #4: Water is our most vital resource. Get involved in #DrinkingWaterWeek and learn more about how safe, clean water helps protect public health across the globe.

POST #5: To ensure safe, clean drinking water now and in the future, water professionals everywhere are hard at work building infrastructure, advancing technology and protecting the environment.
#DrinkingWaterWeek

POST #6: That's a wrap on Drinking Water Week! Thank you for celebrating with us, and we hope you join us for next year's celebration!

Twitter

POST #1: It's officially #DrinkingWaterWeek! We invite both water professionals and our community to celebrate by honoring the vital role water plays in our daily lives.

POST #2: Did you know it's Drinking Water Week? Here are some ways to celebrate and get involved!
<https://news.awwa.org/3xICldO>

POST #3: To commemorate #DrinkingWaterWeek, utilities, organizations, government entities, advocates, schools and others are encouraging consumers to learn more about the importance of water services and water infrastructure, especially in times of crisis.

#POST #4: We invite you to get involved in #DrinkingWaterWeek by learning about the state of the water industry and the solutions in place to protect the world's most vital resource.

POST #5: Are you out celebrating #DrinkingWaterWeek this week? Share your photos by tagging #DrinkingWaterWeek and let us know how you're getting involved!

POST #6: That's a wrap on #DrinkingWaterWeek! Thank you for celebrating with us, and we hope you join us for next year's celebration!

Drinking Water Week 2023

May 7-13, 2023

Instagram

POST #1: It's officially #DrinkingWaterWeek! We invite both water professionals and our community to celebrate by honoring the vital role water plays in our daily lives.

POST #2: Happy #DrinkingWaterWeek 2023! We're celebrating all week by honoring the water professionals who work hard every single day to ensure your water is safe, clean and affordable.

POST #3 We're celebrating #DrinkingWaterWeek by inviting you to learn about the how truly vital clean, safe water is in daily life and its role in protecting public health and the environment now and in the future.

POST #4: It's #DrinkingWaterWeek! Get involved! You can find celebration ideas by visiting the link in our bio.

POST #5: Are you out celebrating #DrinkingWaterWeek this week? Share your photos by tagging #DrinkingWaterWeek and let us know how you're getting involved!

POST #6: That's a wrap on #DrinkingWaterWeek! Thank you for celebrating with us, and we hope you join us for next year's celebration!

LinkedIn

POST #1: It's officially #DrinkingWaterWeek! We invite both water professionals and our community to celebrate by honoring the vital role water plays in our daily lives.

POST #2: As water challenges arise, the water community is focused on its critical mission to ensure safe water, healthy people and a sustainable planet. Celebrate #DrinkingWaterWeek by learning how we're addressing today's water challenges. [insert link]

POST #3: It's our job to make sure we're delivering you safe, clean water at an affordable cost. For this year's #DrinkingWaterWeek, we invite you to learn more about the hard work we do at [insert utility]. [insert link]

POST #4: How are you celebrating #DrinkingWaterWeek? Here are some ways to celebrate in your community: <https://news.awwa.org/3xICldO>

POST #5: We're celebrating #DrinkingWaterWeek by inviting you to learn about the how truly vital clean, safe water is in daily life and its role in protecting public health and the environment now and in the future.

POST #6: That's a wrap on #DrinkingWaterWeek! Thank you for celebrating with us, and we hope you join us for next year's celebration!